

Charmouth 'Challenge' and Fun Run

Challenge: FRA Grade BM

Saturday 7 July 2012

at 1400 (Fun Run) / 1430 (Challenge)

A summer race and day out for serious runners, fun runners and families.

The Challenge follows a hilly multi-terrain course of about 8 miles through some of the finest coastal scenery in the South West. It includes an ascent of Golden Cap, the highest point on the south coast of England at 191m. The Fun Run follows a 2.5 mile course in the same area. The venue for both runs is Dorset's beautiful Jurassic Coast, a World Heritage site and is metres of Charmouth's famous fossil beach. This a fund raising event for Charmouth Primary School with all the monies raised being donated to equip the children with important 'life skills' such as swimming.

Information and entry forms: overleaf, at the school and www.charmouth.dorset.sch.uk

Good luck to all the runners

The Course

Challenge: This is a multi-multi-terrain running experience. Tarmac, stone tracks, gravel, grass, mud, wooden bridges, steps, stiles, gates..... you name it, it's here. The start is fast with half a mile of flat tarmac leading out through the village to the bottom of Stonebarrow Lane, which then gives a grueling climb of about a mile rising over 120m. The next mile on stone tracks and grass rises steadily another 60m to the top of Chardown Hill. You can see most of the rest of the course from up here, including Golden Cap looming in the distance. A fast and steep downhill section on grass and stone tracks leads to a farm yard, then a fast downhill lane takes you past the 3 mile point. A flattish section on grass with a couple of stiles leads to a boggy field then a pleasant woodland path before the start of the long 140m climb to Golden Cap through fields. A fierce final climb up a gravel path gives out onto the flat summit of Golden Cap. A quick blast along the top and then you take the short way down, down a steep gravel path followed by even steeper grass to the ruined church of St.Gabriels at 5 miles. A rough stone track and a couple of fields lead out to the cliff edge and the coastal path. This is followed for over a mile, continually either up or down, through grassy fields to the final steep climb up a concrete track, then flatter grass to the top of Stonebarrow Hill. Hopefully, the final section down to the finish at Charmouth School will be an exhilarating swoop down the coastal path but winter landslides may preclude this.

The Challenge is an official FRA fell race grade BM, held in accordance with FRA rules and safety requirements, (www.fellrunner.org.uk). There will be at least two drinks stations.

Fun Run: This will follow a course of about 2.5 miles on a route yet to be decided. It will start and finish at the school and include an ascent of Stonebarrow Hill, where there will be a drinks station. The fun runners will go first so that they will clear the final descent before the challenge runners arrive.
